BRIEF

Greenside Development's objective for the project was to transcend mere development.

Our project brief was initiated with a philanthropic aim, focusing on how we could contribute to improving people's lives and crafting a lifestyle suited for global citizens.

Our "why" centers around giving back to the community, while our "how" revolves around translating this mission into reality through enhanced design.

We begin with emotions, allowing them to guide our design process from the very start, encompassing architecture, interior design, material selection, and the end user's daily living support facilities.

The project's founder emphasized the importance of every team member feeling as though they were designing their own homes. We compiled a comprehensive list of everyone's dreams and aspirations, seamlessly integrating them into the development journey of WADI 645, ensuring it became a true reflection of a collection of ideas.

WADI 645

THE FLOW OF AIR, LIGHT, COLOUR, SPACE, TEXTURE AND MATERIAL

The invisible components of our daily lives, air, light, color and space are vital in maintaining and restoring our physical, mental and emotional well-being.

THE FLOW OF AIR

The homes at Wadi 645 are crafted with a focus on optimal air circulation. Featuring double-volume interior spaces, our design naturally enhances the flow of air, creating a refreshing and open atmosphere. Embracing cutting-edge technology, Wadi 645 incorporates super-efficient VRF (Variable Refrigerant Flow) technology.

This not only reduces energy costs but also ensures residents' comfort by delivering cooled air precisely to different zones. The advanced air filtration system operates silently, effectively eliminating pollen, cooking odors, and smoke. As a result, Wadi 645 not only provides a stylish and comfortable living space but also prioritizes a clean, purified, and refreshing indoor environment for its residents.

THE FLOW OF LIGHT

The architecture of Wadi 645 prioritizes the seamless flow of natural light, carefully balancing illumination without the intrusion of excess heat or glare. The building harnesses daylight efficiently, promoting a well-lit and welcoming environment.

As night falls, our architectural lighting strategy comes into play, aligning with the body's circadian system. This not only enhances residents' mood, comfort, and alertness but also contributes to the quality of their sleep.

In every space, lighting is strategically lateral, never directly overhead, to optimize visual comfort. This deliberate approach not only enhances the overall ambiance but also creates distinct atmospheres by zone, fostering a subtle and healing environment throughout Wadi 645.

THE FLOW OF COLOUR

The flow of color at Wadi 645 is a harmonious integration with the raw beauty of the desert landscape, fostering an ambiance of solace and serenity.

The exterior seamlessly merges with the interior through a bleached bone colored travertine facade. Vertical bronze slats play with light and shade, adding a subtle dynamism.

Inspired by the desert's natural palette, the interior boasts a three cool-neutral tone-on-tone palette made up of cream, champagne, and bronze. These hues, coupled with three textured elements — wood, stone, and metal, create a symbiotic blend mirroring the colors and textures of the surrounding desert. This intentional color flow enhances the overall aesthetic, enveloping Wadi 645 in a soothing, desert-inspired atmosphere.

THE FLOW OF SPACE

Wadi 645 homes are conceived and designed from the inside out using contemporary architectural principles of the five elements, proportions, ratio and daylight, in raw, natural materials.

The volumetric, open-plan spaces optimize the flow of passage, without corridors or hallways. Furniture and fixtures are custom-designed for each residence and produced for each space.

They blend perfectly into the interior, freeing the flow of residents' movement, and elevating their physical and mental well-being.

THE FLOW OF TEXTURE AND MATERIAL

A meticulous selection of textures — glass, travertine, wood, and metal. Each raw material was chosen to align with the natural flow of energy within the space. While distinctive in their individual perfection, these materials come together to create a dynamic interplay, exchanging energies harmoniously when placed side by side.

This intentional blend of texture and material at every turn not only enhances the visual richness of the project but also contributes to a sensory experience where the interwoven materials create a tapestry of tactile and visual engagement.
